

Jackson Young

I am currently a college student, graduating in the Spring of 2026, hoping to find opportunities to learn and grow in my coaching ability.

In School • San Antonio

staging-og1.up.railway.app/p/jyoung-11

Biography

I grew up in Boerne, Texas and played football my whole life. I always played slot receiver but loved studying the X's and O's of football. I went to Geneva (a mid-sized private school). We were a successful program that made a deep run in the playoffs every year and won State my Junior year. I played one year of Division 1 football at Abilene Christian University before realizing I wanted to pursue coaching and teaching. I hope to help my players grow into better, more well-rounded men.

Statement

I would consider myself a football junkie, I spend almost all of my free time watching film and drawing up schemes. I have created an entire playbook, call system, and install schedule. My scheme and strategy is constantly shifting as I try to learn and adapt as much as possible. But ultimately, I want to coach football because of its transformational characteristics. I have seen it have an incredible positive impact on young men, and I want to be a part of that.

Education

Business

Abilene Christian University

Played football here my freshman year of college.

Sport Management

Texas A&M University

I majored in Sport Management and Minored in Secondary Education.
